CEDAR FALLS, IOWA, APRIL 1, 1922

No. 2

TO THE ALUMNI—The long promised new Alumni Register is in the hands of the printer and should be distributed by June 1. Unexpected delays always occur in getting out a volume of so many pages. Alumni who are to change their addresses at the close of the school year, should order their copy sent to their new address at once. If copy of the Register is not received by July 1, send a notice of that fact to the President. As only copies enough are being printed to supply the known need, this should receive immediate attention.

Homer H. Seerley, President.

High School Commencement. Wednesday evening, January 25, the commencement exercises of first semester section of Class of 1922, occurred in the Training School auditorium. Thirteen of the class of the year graduated. The others will complete their work at the end of the school year, the number now being estimated at twenty-nine. Prof. D. S. Wright was the chaplain pronouncing the invocation and the benediction. The Girls' Glee Club gave two numbers: Schubert's "Hark, Hark the Lark" and Irtelzki's "Berceuse," accompanied by Miss Louise Fuerste in violin obligata. Miss Eva May Luse, the director of the School, presented the class, and President Homer H. Seerley gave the address on the subject, "The Survival of the Fit," and presented the diplomas.

Vocal Recital. Wednesday, January 25, a joint recital was given in Gilchrist Chapel by the two professional singers, Miss Katherine La Sheck, contralto, and Mr. Walter Jenkins, baritone. They were friends of Professor Hays of the Music Department, and were graciously generous by giving a complimentary concert during their visit at Cedar Falls. Their singing was well done in every number and their audience showed most hearty appreciation by applauding every number. They each responded to a special encore at the end of their respective programs.

Oratorical Contest. January 11, 1922, the local oratorical contest, for the purpose of choosing the contestant for the interstate meet in May, occurred in the college auditorium. Venancio Trinidad, a Filipino, a member and president of the senior class, won first place, Walter Schultz and Earl London won second and third places. Trinidad made a fervent plea for the independence of the Philippines, claiming that the United States should not permanently retain the Islands. The judges were members of the faculty, Professor S. A. Lynch, Professor John Barnes, Professor W. B. Fagan, Professor R. L. Abbott and Miss Lulu Sweigard.

Inspecting Colleges. The Inter-College Committee has been visiting the colleges of the state of Iowa to determine the efficiency of the work done by them so as to have basis of judging what recognition should be given their students when they come to the state institutions for further study. Professor Frank Ivan Merchant was one of the members of the committee that visited Ellsworth College at Iowa Falls, and Registrar Charles S. Cory was one member of the committee that visited Trinity College at Sioux City and Waldorf College at Forest City, January 12 and 13.

Dramatic Programs. The Lecture Committee presented Madame Borgny Hammer and Rolf Fjell in Henrik Ibsen's "Ghosts" and "Master Builder", January 18 and 19, 1922. These great Norwegian stars had visited the Teachers College, giving Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House", and "The Master Builder", two years ago. This year's visit was equivalently successful in acceptability. They used the translations in English made by the dramatic critic William Archer, London, England.

Midwinter Play. January 26, 1922, the Dramatic Art Faculty gave as the Midwinter Play, Booth Tarkington's "Clarence", a comedy in four acts. The music was by the College Orchestra, directed by Mr. Theodore B. Gundry, Head of the Department of Orchestral Music. The characters were Elizabeth Mastain, Elmer Schindler, Florence Begeman, Ernest Ruppelt, Marjorie Patterson, Ruth Snider, Clyde Brooks, Emma Frances Chase, Dale Welsch and Semon Sandven. The sale of seats was large, the audience was greatly pleased and the actors were highly complimented.

Rural Schools—Winter Picnic. February 17, 1922, the rural schools of Mulinex, Benson, Castle Hill, Eddy and Cedar Heights districts held their winter picnic at the Teachers College. The program was arranged and conducted by Prof. Harry L. Eells, Miss Alta Willmarth and the teachers of these schools. In the morning there was a pageant entitled "Mother Nature and Her Forces", Theme, Geography, in which each school took part. Then came dinner in the gymnasium, followed by motion picture program in the college auditorium. The whole day was a creditable coming together that proved that the affiliated schools were doing superior work.

Professors Ernest Zechiel and Theodore R. Gundry gave a Sonata Recital, February 1, 1922. They presented selections from the sonatas of Mozart, Brahms, Pizetti, C. Franck, and Bethoven. The concert was received with unusual interest and pleasure by the audience.

John W. Campbell, student of 1898-1899, is serving his seventh year as postmaster at Ryder, North Dakota.

Mary E. Polley, 1892, Bureau of Education, Academic Division, Manila, P. I., attended the inauguration of Dr. Guy Potter Benton as President of the University of the Philippines, as the representative of the Iowa State Teachers College, December 16, 1921. She reports that the ceremonies were very impressive and that the thoughts expressed by Dr. Benton in his address; well as by other speakers of the day may result in putting the institution upon a surer foundation financially and educationally. She has recently prepared an outline of courses in reading for two-year and four-year normal courses in the Philippine Islands for the Bureau of Education.

The Minnesingers. Under the direction of Professor Wm. E. Hays, the reorganized Minnesingers, have given several concerts in neighboring cities that were decidedly successful. After this tour, a home concert was given in the auditorium, February 14, 1922. The young men sang the very best glee club music in the most artistic and acceptable way. The club this year consists of five first tenors, five second tenors, five first bass and five second bass. It reminded many of the older members of the Faculty of the former days when the Minnesinger was the great honor student club at Cedar Falls. Mr. Hays is a superior trainer of group singers and his leadership is acknowledged.

Anna Treimer, graduate of the State University of Iowa and a former student of the fall of 1918, has gone as a missionary to China. She writes Miss Mary F. Hearst under date of January 3, 1922, giving an interesting account of crossing the Pacific, of her stay in Japan, her arrival at Shanghai and of her beginning work as a teacher because at once needed, but that she still hopes to go back to nursing. She finds the cities of the east very interesting and says the passing crowds afford a living panorama of strange sights. Shanghai has a foreign population of 24,000 composed of Americans, English, French, Russian, Portuguese, Japanese and others with a Chinese population of 780,000. The police force numbers 2400 of whom a fourth are Hindoo Sikhs. Miss Treimer's address is 31 Quinsan Rd., Shanghai, China, Asia.

Memorial Program. February 22, at 10:00 A. M., occurred the Hemenway-Washington memorial exercises in the Auditorium, David Sands Wright, Senior Professor, giving the "Tribute to Hon. H. C. Hemenway", first president of the first board of directors; and Dr. William W. Gist giving an address on "Why We Honor Washington". Miss Jennette Carpenter, professor of English, pronounced the invocation, Professor D. S. Wright pronounced the benediction. The audience under the leading of Professor C. A. Fullerton and the College Chorus, sang "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner", while Prof. W. E. Hays and the Minnesingers sang "A Thousand Years". The whole program was of the highest order of excellence. The addresses are sent as supplements to the News Letter so that the Alumni may have them complete.

The Training School. Feb. 21 the Training School pupils gave a physical education demonstration in the College Gymnasium at 7:00 P. M. Miss Doris White of the Physical Education faculty was in charge. Every grade was represented in the program from the kindergarten to the high school, led by their respective instructors and the entertainment was most acceptable and superior in every line. The success of the children was very notably observed in this popular annual demonstration.

Tuesday Club Banquet. Louise Hearst '21, Critic Teacher this year in the Training School, assisted at the Annual Dinner of the Cedar Falls Tuesday Club, February 28 by giving two piano numbers, and Hazel Strayer '14, of the English Department, gave a group of readings.

Winifred Wilbur, class of 1922, piano course, gave a piano recital in the Auditorium February 27, 1922, playing selections from C. Frank, Grieg, Cadman, Grainger and Foote.

Demonstration. The Women's Department of Physical Education gave a demonstration of their work March 2, 1922. The staff presented two years of work in Singing Games, Portland Fancy Dance, Group Dance, Esthetic Dancing, Single Indian Club Drill, Beginning Folk Dancing, Third Year Physical Education students in Advanced Esthetic Dancing, School Room Games, Advanced Folk Dancing. The demonstration was one of the most highly developed programs ever presented at the College.

Reappointment. At the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges held in Chicago February 25, President Seerley was appointed a delegate to the American Council of Education, a position he formerly held representing the National Council of Normal School Presidents and Principals when the Emergency Council was founded during the Great War and since changed into title as The American Council with permanent offices at Washington, D. C. This organization consists of three delegates from the several national organizations holding conventions in education in the United States. He was also made chairman of the Committee on Resolutions and of the Committee on title at the late Chicago meeting. From this time forward this National Council of Normal School Presidents and Principals will work under the title "National Council of Teachers Colleges, as more than half of the schools in the organization are now holding the name "teachers college".

Iowa Wins. The National Institution for Moral Instruction located at Washington, D. C., offered a prize of $20,000 to the educators of any state who would make the best report on the most effective and practical method of moral instruction. Twenty-seven states formed committees and made reports. Iowa submitted a report of 300 pages. The judges were the superintendents of public instruction of New York, Pennsylvania and Missouri. The Iowa Committee consisted of Prof. E. D. Starbuck, Iowa City, Supt. H. E. Blackmar, Ottumwa, C. P. Colegrove, Fayette, Fred D. Cram, Cedar Falls, A. C. Fuller, Cedar Falls, Ernest Horn, Iowa City, A. T. Hukill, Waterloo, H. F. Martin, Des Moines, J. D. Stoops, Grinnell. The victorious plan followed the project—Problem method of character development. The $20,000 comes to Iowa.

High School Basket Ball. February 23, 1922, the T. C. High School team had a basket ball game with the Cedar Falls High School team. The game was an exceedingly strong one, the T. C. High School team being winners. At a previous game on the Cedar Falls High School floor, the city team defeated the College High boys so that the season closed without any decision as to championship.

Rural Life Conference. March 11 and 12, 1922, the College Y. W. C. A. held a rural life conference, the purpose being to discuss problems of Christian leadership and recreation in small towns and the rural communities. Miss Frances Perry of the national staff, conducted the conference. A game demonstration was given in the gymnasium to illustrate practical ways of entertaining.

The College Eye. The Editorial Staff of the College Eye for 1922-23 was elected March 1 and resulted in the appointing of Hans H. Andersen as Editor in Chief, Celeste Armstrong as Local and Alumni Editor and Herluf H. Strandkov as Business Manager. The election was conducted by 1921-22 staff, the voters being paid up student subscribers in college at this time.

Annual Basket Ball Tournament. On March 3 and 4, 1922, the T. C. Club held the annual tournament for the high schools, 26 teams being represented. The T. C. Club gave prizes to the three leading teams of a miniature gold basket ball to each member of the winning teams. The Cedar Falls Commercial Club gave the Champion Trophy, a full sized silver basket ball. The teams that won were Jesup, East Waterloo and Rudd.

Proposed New Tax. At the February meeting of the Department of Superintendence there was much tax discussion. Some of the representatives of Independent colleges and universities are getting disturbed by the coming greatness and expensiveness of the tax supported colleges and universities and they gently proposed that in some way graduates of tax supported institutions should be compelled to pay for their free education by several years contribution given to the State in proportion to their incomes. This late proposition comes from aristocracy to democracy as an advice that is not likely to receive consideration. This recommendation was cloaked on a theory that teachers would escape this tax because they gave their services to the State but that all other professions should be listed, investigated and taxed for the support of higher education by the State.

Dinner. The Men's Faculty Club had charge of a dinner at Bartlett Hall dining room to which they invited Cedar Falls Commercial Club members, March 7. The speakers were President Faye Bennison of the Commercial Club, Prof. John Barnes, Prof. T. B. Homan, Prof. W. E. Hays. Prof. C. A. Fullerton led the community singing and Prof. C. H. Bailey, president of the Faculty Men's Club, presided at the meeting.

The Teachers College. The reorganization of state schools engaged in training teachers so as to become of college rank and to give college degrees has now been accomplished in forty-seven states and has reached more than a majority of all the former state normal schools in the Union. This indicates the dropping of "normal" as a name in educational pedagogy and the recognition of the necessity for all teachers of every grade to have four years of preparation and a diploma equivalent to a college degree. This plan assumes that salaries of all grades should be equal whenever the preparation is equal. It is a growing belief that it takes as much of a man or woman to teach children in primary grades as it does in the high school.

Commencement. The winter term closed March 7, 1922, with the graduation of thirty-seven students distributed as follows: 1 Rural Schools; 3 Manual Arts; 1 Art; 1 Public School Music; 1 Kindergarten; 15 Primary; 8 Junior College; and 3 with the Bachelor of Arts in Education degree. The B. A. Class consisted of Mary A. Faint, M. Di., 1906; Blanche Henak, Physical Education, 1918, and Venancio Trinidad, a graduate of the Manila, P. I., Normal School. His residence is Talisay, Batangas, P. I. He is the first Filipino student to come to Cedar Falls and has won success in all student lines. After a few weeks of travel, he sails for his home.

The Consolidated School. The March Basket Ball Tournament for high schools at the Teachers College demonstrated unequivocally that the rural high schools are already actual competitors of the city high schools in athletics and will be in all lines of endeavor in the future. The winners of this tournament were in order Jesup (consolidated school), East Waterloo (city high school), Rudd (consolidated school), Grundy Center (city high school). Jesup beat every team assigned to it for two days and closed the tournament by defeating East Waterloo, the winning city high school, 46 to 31. Rudd beat Grundy Center for third place in the tournament, 18 to 16. Give the country pupils a chance and they will prove their capacity every time.

Iowa Collegiate Women's Forensic League. The annual meeting for 1922 occurred at Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa, February 17. The contest on extemporaneous speaking was on the subject "Limitation of Armaments" and was participated in by Teachers, Morningside, Iowa Wesleyan, Parsons and Penn. The speakers were limited to ten minutes. Hazel Smith of Iowa Wesleyan was given first; Frances Wheeler of Teachers, second. The contest in prepared orations had representatives from Central, Morningside, Teachers, Parsons, Upper Iowa, Simpson, Buena Vista, Iowa Wesleyan and Penn. Hazel Reed of Morningside was awarded first place and Helen McCabe of Parsons, second. Lulu Porter, Teachers orator, was ranked fifth. In the business meeting, Western Union College, LeMars, was admitted as a member. Jane Gosselnic of Central was president and Gladys Lynch of Teachers was secretary-treasurer.

Student Loan Fund. By authority of the State Board of Education, the Faculty of the Teachers College has organized a student Loan Fund and made arrangements for its management. The Executive Committee appointed by the President consists of Prof. Winfield Scott for one year; Prof. Alison Aitchison for two years, and Prof. Chas. H. Bailey for three years. The chairmanship revolves so that each one will be chairman in turn and appointments will be made annually to fill the vacancy that occurs. There are four ex officio members: the President, the College Secretary, the Dean of Women and the Adviser of Men. Applications are received by the ex officio members; decisions are made by the executive committee; loans are made preferably to seniors and juniors, to those who rank high in their classes and to none whose habits are questionable. The amount loaned does not exceed $200 in any one year nor over $300 to any student. A note must be given at 4 per cent and payment shall be made in equal monthly installments from the first year's salary if the loan does not exceed $150 and from first and second year salary if it exceeds $150.

Dual Debate. Teachers College and Dubuque University held a dual debate March 10, at Cedar Falls and at Dubuque on the subject "Resolved that the maintenance of the Union Shop is for the best interests of the American Public". Ivan Maxson, Dale Welch and Ivan Fenn represented Teachers College on the affirmative at Cedar Falls; Earl London, Glen Moon and Leo Friis represented Teachers College on the negative at Dubuque. The one judge system was used; both decisions were in favor of the Cedar Falls teams; they were the best debaters, the best acquainted with the question and the best able to do forensic work. Professor John Barnes, in charge of public speaking, had charge of the teams and deserves great credit for the results.

Folk Dances. The Physical Education Department for Women has been conducting a research of original country dances in Iowa and other parts of the Middle West fifty years ago. Miss Monica Wild, Assistant Head, obtained the assistance of an 83 year old musician, Josiah Petty of Perry, Iowa, who won the medal in an old time fiddler's contest at Omaha a few months ago. The "conducting and calling off" was given by M. J. Knowlin of Perry, Iowa. By this means the Department expects to demonstrate that the American folk dances are the equivalent of those belonging to other nations and peoples.

Dramatic Declamatory Contest. On March 21, 1922, the prize dramatic declamatory contest occurred in the auditorium. The winners were Gladys Lynch, first; Dale Welch, second; and Florence Begeman, third. The first used a scene from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet"; the second used a scene from "If I Were King"; and the third used a scene from Shakespeare's "Macbeth". Every one of the seven contestants was an honor speaker and the difference between them was very small in percentage. Miss Hazel Strayer of the English Department prepared the class and Miss Bockenthien, Mrs. McKinstry and Mr. Barnes were the judges. The prizes were $25.00, $15.00 and $10.00.

ALUMNI.

Dagny Ellen Jensen, 1916, Cedar Falls, Iowa, is head of the Dagny-El-len Company for the Redpath-Vawter lyceum circuit for 1922. She was connected with the Redpath-Vawter Company as soprano, pianist, reader and impersonator during 1921. The recognition of leadership thus granted indicates unusual success as it will mean better salary and more authoritative position. The Dagny-El-len Company consists of five young ladies of musical and entertaining ability.

Roy A. Crouch, 1916, is now a member of the faculty in the Department of Education of the Louisiana State Normal School at Natchitoches. This institution has recently been authorized to offer a full four year course as a college. He is pleased with the opportunities of growing in his work and states that there will be a few good positions for well qualified teachers in this normal school next fall.

Elmer E. Harrison, 1887—10415 Waters Avenue, Seattle, Washington, is the Office Manager of the Denver Rock Drill Manufacturing Company. He has been connected with business enterprises since his graduation and has become an expert in office management.

Margaret Knight, 1918, is a student at the State University, after teaching one year at Dumont and two years at her home in Estherville. She is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority and is singing in the Glee Club, in addition to teaching a part of each day at the Hospital for Crippled Children.

Frank M. Phillips, 1908, 1911, Statistician, Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., has sent the President's Office a copy of Bulletin No. 116, May 1921, entitled "Lead Poisoning in the Pottery Trades", which publication he had a part in preparing for the United States Government. Copies of this may be secured by sending thirty-five cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. It is a valuable scientific treatise, consisting of 223 pages.

Elsie Mary Oleson, 1915, after some time of rest and recuperation at her home near Cedar Falls, has returned to Iowa City for the purpose of completing her course in nursing in the hospital at the State University. While absent from her work she has served as office assistant for Dr. W. L. Hearst.

John S. Hilliard, 1906, Superintendent of Schools at Manchester, Iowa, has been appointed Superintendent of Schools at Estherville, Iowa, at a salary of $3,400.00.

Richard O. Bagby, 1911, now attending Columbia University, expects to receive his Master's Degree from the Department of Administration of Schools of that institution in June, 1922.

W. Claude Jarnagin, 1899, City Editor, Daily Capital, Des Moines, Iowa, and Roy Jarnagin, 1907, Editor, Storm Lake, Iowa, have purchased "The Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune" and assumed possession February 1, 1922. Roy Jarnagin is to be the active publisher of this newspaper under the new management.

Mabelle A. Payton, 1904, is now in Illinois where she has been teacher of English in the Township High School of that place. Since leaving Cedar Falls she has graduated with the Bachelor's degree in the School of Education of Chicago University, receiving honors in the department of English in the year 1915. She is now receiving the salary of $2,800.00 as teacher of English and Public Speaking. Her home address is Box 195, Wilmette, Illinois.

Coral M. Smith-Darr, 1900, 5025 Harriet Ave., S., Minneapolis, writes under date of January 23, 1922, that she would like to have her daughter, Dorothy Darr, finish her education at Cedar Falls on account of the delightful remembrance of the days when she studied at the Teachers College and the further fact that Ida Bogert, mother of Mrs. Darr, was also a former student in the early days of the State Normal School. The two children of Mrs. Darr's family, Howard and Dorothy, are just completing high school and may decide to go to the University of Minnesota, since their home is so near to this great educational institution.

Kenneth W. Colegrove, 1905, of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, history department, has just completed his first published book, "American Citizens and Their Government". Dr. Colegrove graduated at the State University of Iowa and at Harvard University and has held appointments at Mt. Holyoke College, Syracuse University, before going to Northwestern University.

Sworn to and subscribed unto before me this 1st day of April, 1922.

BENJAMIN BOARDMAN,

Notary.

Mrs. Angeline Ferguson (Angie J. Elder, 1892), is now principal of the Las Virgenes School, Calabasas, California. She had concluded to devote the rest of her days to her little flock, two sons and two daughters, but the late war made teachers so scarce in 1917, that she returned to school work, being principal of Lantry, S. Dakota, three years and is now in the second year at Las Virgenes School in California. She expresses gratitude to Iowa for her training at the State Teachers College at Cedar Falls, as she has found it always sufficient for meeting her needs as a mother and teacher.

Lester C. Arey, 1915, formerly superintendent of schools at Rock Rapids, Iowa, was called to the superintendency of the Cherokee schools and accepted the appointment there on January 20.

W. H. Harwood, 1879, and Mrs. W. H. Harwood (Jennie Macy, 1879) are now residents of California, where Mr. Harwood is "Investigator", State Corporation, Department of California, at Los Angeles Office, associated with General E. C. Bellows, Commissioner of Corporations. Their home address is 816 N. Raymond Ave., Pasadena, California. Mr. Harwood was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Teachers College for two years before the State Board of Education was organized.

A. W. Moore, 1905, Superintendent of Oelwein Public Schools, has issued a booklet for 1921-22 giving school calendar, board of education, list of teachers with location, residences and telephone numbers, statistics of schools for 1919-20, 1920-21, growth of schools, course of study of high school, financial statement at June 30, 1921, scholastic preparation of teachers and list of text books adopted. It gives a business statement of the organization and the service that is maintained by the people and will be a model method of telling facts about a progressive system of schools.

Dr. F. C. Ensign, 1894-1895, Professor of Education at the State University of Iowa, has been appointed Chairman of the Ethics Committee, Iowa State Teachers Association, in place of Dr. C. P. Colegrove, who has removed from Iowa and was unable to continue this work. Dr. Ensign's appointment is worthily bestowed as he has the full confidence of Iowa teachers.

Hazel Bartholf, 1915, is teaching in the primary department of the public schools of Pocatello, Idaho. Her local address is Box 725. Her mother, Mrs. C. M. Bartholf, is the Preceptress in Community Hall, State College of Washington, Pullman, Wash.

Mrs. B. M. Jones (Luella Rigby, 1900) and husband, missionaries in Burma, returned to their station early in November, 1921. Their address is Ragu, Burma, since Conference. They had a very pleasant voyage, returning. Since December, 1921, mail has been much delayed and prevented because of the revolutionary attitude of the people, the Anti-English feeling being very active. Their friends in the United States are extremely anxious over the personal dangers due to present conditions.

Grace S. Kettleison, 1906, was elected County Superintendent of Schools of Dickinson County, Iowa, December 31, 1922. She has been a teacher in Iowa, North Dakota, Montana and Idaho since her graduation.

Dr. Grover H. Alderman, 1913, superintendent of schools, Newton, Iowa, has been appointed by the University of Michigan to teach Public School Administration during the summer term.

Eva Cresswell, 1908, 1913, has prepared a little book of sixteen pages finely illustrated, entitled "The Story of Muscatine." It is a local history for the pupils of that city that could well be duplicated in every progressive city school system.

Ida Strawn Baker, 1901, of 1543 Park Ave., Indianapolis, Indiana, is associated with her husband, Walter Davis Baker, in the Walcraft Company, manufacturers, specialists of school art and industrial material at 257 N. Tacoma Avenue. This company was organized in 1910 and has an extensive business represented by a thirty-six page catalog. Mrs. Baker has gained a wide reputation in handicraft and has exhibited her work in various organizations and societies. She is a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Crafts, three years secretary of the Handicraft Guild of Indiana, which organization has developed the standard of handicraft in that state. She is a member of the Indianapolis Woman's Rotary Club of professional and business women, a member of the Little Theater Society, designing and dyeing draperies and costumes, a member of the Woman's Department Club and the Art Association besides numerous civic, social and religious organizations. During the summer season she occupies herself with painting at the Art Alumni Association of Chicago Summer School located at Saugatuck, Michigan, the most noted Art Colony of the Middle West. Her husband was an Iowa man, a graduate of Cornell College, a major in the World War and is now the Commander of the 334 Infantry of the Indianapolis Regiment.

Mrs. Fred E. Sanders (Mildred Lyon, 1901), is a resident on a forty acre farm in Washington township, Black Hawk County, Iowa. She is the mother of four daughters and two sons, and has adopted the side line of raising chickens. She began with twelve hens six years ago. In 1921 she raised 338 hens which produced 42,594 eggs. Her gross returns for that year were $1,511.50. It is estimated that she received a monthly income of $91.45 from this flock and the net profits on each hen were $10.97. The total expense of keeping the 338 hens was $413.00. She invests all her profits she receives in U. S. Government securities.

Eleanor Gray-Richeson, 1913, 1915, 206 Pine St., Benton, Illinois, reports January 28, 1922, that she has been very busy since September 14, 1921, caring for a little son, Edwell Gray Richeson, "the greatest boy in the whole state". She was married November 24, 1920, her husband being credit manager for the retail trade of his county.

Charles F. Perrott, 1918, had a recent experience that was very complimentary to the public school work at Stuttgart, Arkansas, where he is superintendent of city schools. The finances of the school district were exhausted by the increased cost and the financial conditions were in a crisis. The school board had decided to close the school because of the emergency as the law did not justify any increased indebtedness. The people at a public meeting contributed $10,000 by subscription, thus enabling the school board to continue the schools to the end of the year. It is such action as this that proves that the American people are able to be depended upon when such emergencies occur. They tax themselves and then they personally contribute with a patriotism that is very commendable.

Harriet Cunningham, 1894, National Secretary, Young Womens Christian Association, has her office at 600 Lexington Avenue, New York City. In 1920 at the Cleveland Conference, she was elected President of the National Association of Employed Officers (Secretaries) of the Young Womens Christian Association. This association includes 4000 members in 1922, and will hold its next conference at Hot Springs, Arkansas, April 28, 1922.

A. T. S. Owen, 1900, Farmington, Ia., superintendent of schools, is chairman of the Executive Committee, Southeast Iowa State Teachers Association. Superintendent Owen has been continuously in the service of the Farmington school district for 22 years and has the unusual cooperation of all the people.

Katherine E. Berkstresser, 1919, has been head of the Department of Reading in the East Texas State Normal College, Commerce, Texas, since graduation. She has made a marked success in her work in the Lone Star State so that the authorities of this college are desirous of finding some other T. C. graduates who are equally efficient. She is greatly pleased at the progress and standards of the work expected in Texas and the eager earnestness that the teachers show. She advises ambitious, expert graduates to come to Texas and have a part in the great work now in progress.

Jeanette Caroline Gilkerson, 1913, is represented by the Omaha Bee of February 17, as having been chosen president of the Big Sisters association of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Gilkerson is a teacher in the Clifton School of Omaha.

Homer Veatch, 1913, Head of Department of Public Speaking, Dakota Wesleyan University, trained the Wesleyan girls that won the triangular debate with Yankton and Morningside Colleges, the subject being the Kansas industrial law. This gives him and his teams the indisputed championship title for this year.

June Emery, 1907, County Superintendent of Schools at Madison, South Dakota, was elected President of the South Dakota Education Association for the current year. She has made a record that is appreciated for high school principal at Madison and also for county superintendent.

Cap E. Miller, 1913, Fargo, North Dakota, of the Staff of the Agricultural College, gave an address on "Farm Manager Recruits" at the 23d meeting of the State Grain Growers Convention held at Fargo, N. D., January 17, 1922. He also spoke on the "Increase of Farm Managers in North Dakota." The census showed 484 such expert employes in 1910 and 855 in 1920. The qualifying students for such duties is Professor Miller's special duty and the opportunities are continually growing in importance.

George Hendrickson, 1921, Superintendent of Schools at Thornburg, Consolidated School, Iowa, will assist again in the Summer School in Agriculture work and has been reelected at Thornburg for next year.

Edna Fearer, former student of 1921, who has been teaching in the All Saints School at Sioux Falls, S. D., the past year, has been reelected at an advance in salary for next year.

J. Percival Huget, 1892, Minister of the Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church, 480 Tompkins Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., under date of February 25, says "Thirty years since my graduation. Let me know when this year's Commencement occurs as I want to be there if I can make plans to that end." His family is well. Mrs. Huget and her mother spent five months in England last year. His oldest daughter, Miriam, received her Master's degree at Columbia University in 1921.

A. L. Faber, former student, and formerly superintendent of schools at Allison, Iowa, is now representative of the Scott-Foresman Publishing Company in several states for their line of school text books.

C. W. Bangs, 1905, Traer, Iowa, Superintendent of Schools for five years, has been elected city superintendent of schools at Manchester, Iowa, sixty candidates seeking the place. He succeeds John S. Hilliard, 1906, who goes to Estherville next year. Superintendent Bangs has been seventeen years in the schools of Nichols, Springdale, Williams, Paulina and Traer.

William L. Hunter, 1916-1919, will have charge of the Manual Arts shop work at the State University of Iowa this summer term.

Dr. F. C. Ensign, 1894, 1895, professor of education, State University of Iowa, graduate of State University of Iowa and of Columbia University, New York City, has been appointed chairman of a committee of the Iowa State Teachers Association to draft a code of ethics for Iowa teachers.

Grace I. Kettleison, 1906, was elected county superintendent of schools of Dickinson County, Iowa, early in the fall, her office being at Spirit Lake.

Mrs. Aaron Palmer (Maude Humphry, 1892, 1894) has recognized the honor conferred upon her late husband, Supt. Aaron Palmer, by the Marshalltown School Board naming the new first ward school building to be erected the coming year, "The Aaron Palmer School," as a memorial to his great service in that city as school superintendent for fifteen years.

Supt. J. S. Hilliard, 1906, Manchester, has been appointed Chairman of the Committee of Health, Iowa State Teachers Association, to cooperate with the Joint Committee on Health Problems in Education of the National Education Association, and the American Medical Association.

Bessie C. Bardsley, 1899, resides at 1828 W. Indiana Ave., Spokane, Washington, where she is in extension work of the Home Demonstration Service of the State of Washington, going into a county for one or two months, helping the rural women with their needle work. She is greatly delighted with her opportunity and the success that has appeared. She gives a very interesting account of the people whom she serves, all showing that she is adapted admirably to the work to be done. She reports Anna Heller, 1900, as residing at Kildare Apartments, Spokane, Wn. Miss H. is now teacher in the Junior High School and expects to get her B. A. degree this year.

Blanche E. Riggs, 1899-1900, a member of the faculty of the State Normal School at Kearney, Nebraska, has a year's leave of absence and is spending it with her father and mother in New Jersey, commuting to New York City, where she is taking work as a student at Columbia University.

Fred D. Cram, 1908, 1909, professor of extension of the Teachers College, has been appointed Chairman of a Committee to report for the Iowa State Teachers Association on the advisability of a teachers' placement bureau to be conducted by the Association. His associates are Supt. F. A. Mahannah, Cedar Falls, and Mary J. Walters (1905, 1908), Waterloo.

Samuel T. Neveln, 1908, 1916, has been reelected superintendent of schools at Austin, Minnesota, for a term of three years at a salary of $4500.00 a year. The school board unqualifiedly endorsed his administration. Since he went to Austin the high school has been housed in the new building; the high school has been completely reorganized; the reorganization of the grades has been accomplished and the entire city, redistricted. The new work inaugurated has been placed in the hands of a trained librarian and much reference material has been bought. "Supervised Study" for the preparation of lessons has been installed; "Opportunity Rooms" have been opened and higher standards of advancement and promotion are required. In these many changes, the Superintendent acknowledges the heartiest cooperation of parents, pupils and teachers in realizing these aims. Austin has erected one of the most notable high school buildings in the Mississippi Valley.

Casper Schenk, 1898, 1899, Attorney at Law, Des Moines, Iowa, has been announced as one of the Commanding Officers of the Eighty-eighth Division of the National Army Reserve Corps. He is given the rank of Major in charge of machine gun and howitzer service, with headquarters at Des Moines, Iowa.

Maud Bozarth, 1897, 1899, social worker for some years in Chicago and New York City, has been in Europe in the service of the American Red Cross, since last summer as business manager at the Paris Headquarters of the Russian Relief Commission. A cablegram came to her relatives at Cedar Falls, Iowa, on the 16th of March, stating that she would land at New York from the S. S. Aquatania, on the 17th, enroute for Rochester, Minnesota, for a serious operation at the Mayo Hospital.

Mrs. Russell VanTuyl (Helen Marr Smith, 1912) teacher in public speaking, North Des Moines High School, has gained large recognition for her presentation of the character, Columbia, in the recent Pageant of the Red Cross given in the City of Des Moines by 2500 people. She was one of the four to have speaking parts. No one was more highly commended as her personality was attractive and her voice successfully carried well to all the 10,000 in the great Coliseum. At the close of the program she said to the representatives of all the states in the most impressive manner: "Will we keep faith with those who have the Red Cross standard high? O, God of Nations, grant that we may our pledge renew" and to her the states replied "We come, we pledge, we serve." Miss Myra E. Call reports that the effect of her part was extraordinarily impressive and that Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin, 1900, was one of the Board of Directors, and one of the physicians among the Red Cross workers was Dr. Erwin Schenk, 1896.

Frank R. Willis, 1879, 1905, presiding judge of the Superior Court, Los Angeles, California, represents the Teachers College at the inauguration ceremonies of President Van Kleinsmid of the University of Southern California, as an official delegate, on April 27-29, 1922.

Bess Streeter-Aldrich, 1901 (Mrs. C. S. Aldrich, Elmwood, Nebraska), well known short story writer for "The American Magazine" and other popular publications, was specially invited by the officers of the Alumni Association to come to commencement the last of May and have a part in the program of the annual reunion. In reply she says that her time is so engaged in the revision of some of her stories for a British Magazine and in the writing of a serial for another editor under contract, that she will be unable to have opportunity to come to Cedar Falls this year and visit her old home, her relatives and friends, and renew the old friendships of college days.

Dr. James Alderson, 1887, M. D., 1891, Chicago Medical College, has been mayor of Dubuque, Iowa, for the past year and has been renominated for the same responsible office for another term. Dubuque has the City Manager System and is so well pleased with the success attained, a system endorsed and advocated by Dr. Alderson when it was before the people for adoption, that he ought to be returned to the mayoralty without any difference of opinion. He has become one of the best informed public men on the city manager plan, and is frequently invited to other municipalities to give an account of the prominent benefits that come from taking a city's business out of partizan politics and conducting its affairs as would any well managed corporation for wise and economical reasons.

Miss Myra E. Call, Extension Professor, reports the following items for the News Letter:

George R. D. Kramer, 1907, has resigned as Y. M. C. A. Secretary at Oskaloosa. His work has been most successful. The membership under his leadership has increased from about 50 to over 1000. His work is most highly commended by the whole community. His wife (Myrtle E. Anderson, 1907), has been very active in the Y. W. C. A. work in Oskaloosa.

At Griswold—Belle Hayes, 1896, now Mrs. R. B. Chisholm, Cora Selby, former student, now Mrs. H. D. Hully, and Leila Talbot, 1907, now Mrs. C. L. Otto Knop, are all active in all community and church work. Miss Winifred Bromelcamp, 1916, is one of the leading teachers of the high school. She has the teacher training work.

At Orient—Grace Terhune, Home Economics, 1918, taught two years at Holly Springs Consolidated School and has been in the Orient Consolidated School for two years.

Helen Freeman, 1915, taught at Ironton, Iowa, and Lena, Illinois, and now for three years has been music supervisor at Orient Consolidated School. A fine new school building is nearing completion.

At DeWitt—Bertha Elizabeth Andersen, 1900, now Mrs. J. B. Large, taught at Maquoketa one and one-half years, then married, lived eleven years in Sutherland, Oregon. Her husband is in the lumber business at DeWitt. One son, David, finishes high school this year.

Mary L. Phares, 1921, principal of the high school at DeWitt, is giving excellent satisfaction. Florence Hanssen, 1916, is teacher of Domestic Science.

At Glidden—Elizabeth Bell, former student, has taught in the grades in the Consolidated School at Glidden for three years, coming from Lake City. She is still grateful to I. S. T. C. for inspiration she received at that school.

Mrs. Adda B. Detwiller-Griffin, former student, wife of Supt. R. A. Griffin, is prominent in club and church work at Glidden. Their fine new consolidated school will soon be dedicated.

At Malvern—Forest Chantry, former student, is president of the School Board at Malvern, and is a recognized leader in the town. His work for the schools is doing much to raise standards. His wife, Ethel Lovitt-Chantry, 1904, who used to delight I. S. T. C. audiences with her sweet singing when she was a pupil and later an instructor there, is still very generous in using her voice in any way she can in community and church work.

Mrs. H. T. Beattie (Lillian Chantry) who was Y. W. C. A. secretary about 18 years ago and later taught history two years at I. S. T. C., has a delightful home. She and her husband are leaders in all good causes in Malvern. They have four interesting children. The oldest, Jean, will finish high school next year.

Fern Fitzsimons, 1912, is in her third year of teaching mathematics in the high school at Fort Dodge. Her work is successful.

Owen Hamersly, B. Di. 1904, M. Di. 1909, received the degree, A. B., at Nebraska University in 1917. He has a family of two children, a girl, Beulah, 1918, who was married in June to J. H. Fairly, and who now lives in Des Moines, and a boy of three and one-half years who gives his father an excellent opportunity for child psychology study. Mr. Hamersly says their little son must go to I. S. T. C. so as to keep the family record complete. This is Mr. Hamersly's fourth year at Stuart. He has a well organized Junior High School in a special building, and a Senior High on the North Central accredited list. He has always found the State Teachers graduates and students to be efficient workers. Miss Florence Nolte, Latin and Geometry, and Miss Wilma Rietveld, Music and Art, are doing splendid work in the high school. Miss Hazel Molsberry in Junior High and Miss Georgianna Chittick are other Teachers College products that are in the teaching force of twenty.

Erma L. Krout, 1903, County Superintendent of Mahaska County with office at Oskaloosa.

1. Has 23 standard schools and others that are contemplating it.

2. Encourages schools that are purchasing library books to select a good supply of those that teach "Citizenship."

3. At the opening of the school year each teacher is provided with a folder that contains the flag salute, American's Creed, the military salute, America, and the Star Spangled Banner.

4. Through the kindness of the W. C. T. U., Miss Krout is supplied with sufficient copies of the Ten Commandments for each school room in the county.

5. Practically all the teachers of the county show grades in Citizenship and it has been accomplished by suggestions from the office at meetings.

6. The annual township meetings are held in the fall in which each school furnishes speakers for the two declamatory contests and a speller for the contest, as well as other numbers for the program. There is a picnic dinner and the cooperation is excellent. The winners of the declamatory contests speak at the Farmers' Institute in January.

FACULTY.

Miss Bertha Martin, professor of dramatic art, presented, through some of her students, the little play "Suppressed Desires" for the Music and Drama department of the Cedar Falls Women's Club, January 11, 1922. Miss Hazel Strayer of the English Department was the director of the play.

McPherrin H. Donaldson, professor of economics, resigned his place as a member of the staff of government and economics, January 12, 1922, in order to accept the place of professor and head of the department of economics at Carroll College, Waukesha, Wisconsin, February 6, 1922. He came to the Teachers College from Y. M. C. A. service in Europe and America. He had been a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University before the war, and recently received his graduate college degree as doctor of philosophy from Denver University. He will be also one of the financial agents of Carroll College, Presbyterian educational institution, and will assist in securing the endowment that the friends and officers are soliciting for a better financial situation in the future.

Alice Hanthorn, Supervisor of primary and elementary education in the Lincoln, Nebraska, public schools, former supervisor of primary teaching at Teachers College, is reported in the State Journal under date of January 19, to have given an instructive report on the sectional meeting of the National Education Association last July conducted by Dr. George D. Strayer of Columbia University, New York.

Waldo F. Mitchell, former member of the faculty of Economics, will receive his doctor's degree in Commerce and Administration at Chicago University this year, his thesis being "Banking." He has to qualify in eight economic fields such as law, geography, risk and insurance, history, labor administration and marketing in which he must take oral and written examinations.

Elizabeth B. Harding, of the College Library staff, resigned to take effect at the end of the Summer Term, for the purpose of seeking a new appointment with more responsibility as an official and more remuneration for the service.

Miss Sara Findlay Rice of the history department, has been granted a vacation of three months on a leave of absence to spend the rest of the winter and early spring visiting old time friends at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Few teachers have earned equivalent honor and esteem among the students and the alumni than has Miss Rice and all will rejoice in this well earned opportunity for rest and recuperation. The vacation began on February 6.

W. H. Davis, former professor of agriculture in the Natural Science Department, has received his doctor of philosophy degree in plant pathology at the University of Wisconsin, and has been appointed as professor of plant pathology.

gy at Massachusetts Agricultural College, Amherst, Massachusetts.

Violette F. E. W. Gahlbeck, soprano, teacher of voice for the winter term during the leave of absence of Lowell E. M. Welles, gave a voice recital in the College Auditorium, Monday evening, March 6, 1922. Irene Rhode was her accompanist. The program was widely selected from many composers and everyone present was greatly pleased by the high quality and positive skill shown by every number.

Director Irving H. Hart, of the Extension Division, has had an article on "The Teacher's Wage" published in the Journal of the National Education Association in the March issue. This contribution takes issue with one formerly published from the pen of Supt. Fowler of Nebraska, pointing out the fallacies that so frequently appear in making an argument trying to establish the fact that teachers wages of today are commensurate with the cost of living. Mr. Hart shows that the teachers' net loss is generally forgotten or overlooked and that the assumption that the teacher is well off under today's schedule is a mistake.

Mrs. Winfield Scott, formerly Miss Elizabeth Moulton of the Natural Science Department, is assisting in the work of Nature Study during the Spring term because of the unusually large number of students enrolled in that branch.

C. A. Fullerton, head of the Music Department, attended the Music Supervisor's National Conference at Nashville, Tenn. March 20—24, 1922. He also put on a 6th grade demonstration in group singing at the Fort Dodge State Teachers Association with children from the city schools, March 17, 1922.

Mrs. Roy Abbott, formerly Miss Miriam Hooker of the Home Economics Department, is instructing one class hour a day for the spring term during the absence of Miss Clara V. Bradley.

John R. Slacks, of the Rural Education Department is doing consultative work in the Extension Division for the spring term in connection with Normal Training High Schools of the State.

Dr. W. W. Gist, James Brownell Post, G. A. R., Cedar Falls, Iowa, has announced the candidacy of Dr. Gist, Professor of English, for the office of Department Commander for Iowa before the next State Encampment held at Des Moines, in June. His prominence among the comrades of the G. A. R. should insure his election as he has been Department Chaplain and Chaplain in Chief of the National Encampment and is an exceptional presiding officer and public speaker. He has been pledged the support of other posts and deserves the distinguished honor.

The Chicago N. E. A. meeting, February 24—March 3, 1922 was attended by the following professors—F. E. Fuller, May E. Smith, E. J. Cable, E. L. Ritter, C. C. Swain, J. B. Paul, R. R. Hollingsworth, O. E. Finkenbinder, T. B. Homan, H. S. Buffum, A. C. Fuller, C. H. Meyer-holz, Amy Arey, Eva May Luse, and Homer H. Seerley.

John H. Beveridge, Omaha, Nebraska, member of the staff of the Education Department of the Teachers College for one summer term some years ago, was elected President of the Department of Superintendence, National Education Association, at the late meeting held in Chicago, February 26-March 2, 1922.

Corrinne Brown, former head of the kindergarten, is an instructor in the Normal Department, Ethical Culture School, New York City, during the past year, and will be an instructor in kindergarten-primary education in the Summer Quarter of the School of Education of Chicago University.

Macy Campbell, Head of the Department of Rural Education and President of the North East Iowa Division of the Iowa State Teachers Association, April 6 and 7, has been critically ill at Sartori Hospital, Cedar Falls, Iowa, since the first of March. He first injured his leg by slipping on the ice as he was walking. This did not compel him to give up his work for several days, but finally infection appeared and an operation was necessary. This condition developed farther by the appearance of embolism in his right lung and later his left lung became involved also. At this writing, March 14, his physician states that his condition will not be fully known for two or three weeks. He has always been a very strenuous worker and his general physical condition has been impaired by severe application to his regular and special duties. The State Board of Education has given him a three months leave of absence from all duties as a recognition of his efficient services. Assistant head, Harry L. Eells, has been designated as acting head for the term.

BOARD.

Dinner. January 5, 1922, at Bartlett Hall Dining Room, the Cedar Falls National Bank officers entertained the State Board of Education with a fine dinner. The get-acquainted plan was well managed by President Frank B. Miller and Vice-president Roger Leavitt. The Board of Education appreciated the courtesy thus shown and expressed the same through a brief address by President D. D. Murphy.

The National Maternity Law. Gov. Kendall designated the State Board of Education, January 27, 1922, as the agency in Iowa to administer the recently enacted maternity law. The Iowa League of Women Voters and other organizations requested such decision.

Banquet. January 4, 1922, the Board of Education were given a banquet by the Cedar Falls Commercial Club. The address on behalf of the city and club was given by Hon. J. B. Newman; the Board members, Hon. George T. Baker, Hon. Pauline Lewelling-Devitt and Hon. Chas. H. Thomas made responsive addresses discussing topics very appropriate for the occasion. Brief addresses were also made by President R. A. Pearson of the Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts and President Walter A. Jessup of the State University. Everybody expressed themselves as pleased with everything. President Bennison of the Commercial Club conducted the program and made the introductory addresses in his happiest manner.

Herman Casewell Hemenway, member of the Board of Directors by appointment of Governor Kirkwood, June 7, 1876 to December 20, 1877, and member of the Board of Trustees by appointment of Governor Boise, December 22, 1893 to June 1, 1894, died at Cedar Falls, Iowa, January 27, 1922. He was a member in the House of Representatives of the 16th General Assembly and in charge of the bill that founded the Iowa State Normal School in 1876. He was the first President of the Board of Directors and he had an active official part in organizing the first faculty and in planning the new state institution. He resigned his membership in the Board in order to accept the office of State Senator, where he served from 1878 to 1882. He was a soldier in the Civil War, being a lieutenant in Co. C. 27th Iowa Infantry, U. S. V. By profession he was an attorney at law and held many important civic offices of public trust in his home community. In the General Assembly he was noted for his extraordinary capability as a legislator and for his probity, sincerity and his ideals as a public official.

Hon. Roger Leavitt, former member of the State Board of Education and now treasurer of the Teachers College, was elected president of Bunker Hill Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution at the Annual Meeting of the Chapter held at Waterloo, Iowa, January 27, 1922..

Hon. I. J. McDuffie, former member of the Board of Trustees, suffered an accident in January in which he received a painful fracture of the bone of a leg. For one of his age this is a very serious matter. On February 6, Mrs. McDuffie reported that he was making rapid recovery and that he would soon be able to be removed from his bed to his chair so that he would be more comfortable.

Mrs. E. B. Stillman, mother of Paul Stillman, member of the Board of Education, died February 26, 1922, at her home in Jefferson, Iowa, following an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Stillman was 85 years of age and had lived in Jefferson about 40 years.
